What Works to Prevent Violence against Women and Girls?

Five years into this global research and implementation collaboration, the UKAID funded What Works programme invites you to a learning event on what works to prevent violence against women and girls (VAWG) across Africa and Asia and in humanitarian contexts.

An interactive panel discussion followed by Q&A will deliberate the implications of new evidence for VAWG prevention research, policy and practice.

When: December 6th 2018

2:00pm – 3:30pm

Hosted by the Global Women's Institute

Where: Milken Institute School of Public Health

950 New Hampshire Ave NW, Washington, DC 20052, Room B100B

Admission: free to attend.

Featuring talks by: researchers and implementers of prevention programs in Rwanda, Tajikistan, Zambia and Nepal.
